The office of the President has issued a fleet-wide alert for four fugitives from the civilian ship Corona. They made their escape during the last Cylon attack and are considered extremely dangerous. If you see any of them then alert the authorities immediately and do not approach under any circumstances.

Henry Boyd, Hero or Murderer?

By Playa Palacios

Like most of us Henry Boyd lost everything the day the Cylons attacked, his family and friends gone in an instant. Rescued and brought aboard Galactica he realized his future was to safeguard the law thereby preventing the last of humanity from slipping into chaos. Henry Boyd rose from humble beginnings on Tauron, studied law and worked as a corporate lawyer, however he soon became disillusioned with the private sector and set himself up as an independent practitioner representing workers rights. So it came as a shock when he killed Tom Zarek in front of a crowded meeting room aboard Galactica after the coup. The News-Review has gained an exclusive interview with this influential man to ask him some direct questions:

Why did you kill Tom Zarek?

"It was agreed after Cain was removed that Tom Zarek would become acting President until elections could be held. During the post-coup meeting he demanded control over the military as well and when Colonel Jack Fisk disagreed Zarek shot him in the head. I killed Zarek to protect the people from another dictator."

Do you consider yourself a murderer?

"No, can anyone who prevents suffering and death consider himself or herself a murderer? I'm not proud of what I did, but my actions were of someone with a clean conscience and not of a murderer."

Were you involved in Admiral Cain's death?

"Everyone who participated in the resistance against Cain was involved in her assassination. It's impossible to be part of a struggle to break the power of a dictator without being prepared to make the ultimate sacrifice."

I hear President Baltar has asked you to draw up a new Charter, any spoilers?

"I'm sorry but I can't talk about details. It won't be a new set of Articles rather it's an update to reflect humanity's current state. I am very honored to be given this momentous task and am consulting with every available expert in order to make sure it meet the needs of the Fleet."

How would you describe your position in the new government?

"Officially I have no position, I'm a consultant and though President Baltar asked me to become Vice President I declined as it would have sent out the wrong message. I killed Zarek for the good of the Fleet, not for my own ends."

Thank you Mr Boyd for a frank and informative interview.

Ship breakdowns cause concern

By John Sowell

The fleet has been plagued with a spate of ship malfunctions and breakdowns recently raising concerns for the already over-stretched repair crews. The ships affected so far are: Daru Mozu, Demetrius, Gideon, Majahual, Rising Star and Triton.

The question is what is causing all these breakdowns? The Cylon virus, which recently corrupted Galactica's environmental systems or human Cylon saboteurs? Perhaps it's just the wear and tear associated with continually jumping the fleet, whatever the cause all ship Captains are advised to carefully review their security procedures.

Plea to find missing pilot

Malcolm Regus (26), a pilot from the civilian transport ship Cybele, went missing earlier this week prompting an urgent appeal to find him. His last flight was to Cloud 9 and his empty shuttle was found several hours later aboard the Gideon. Malcolm is married with two children.
